David Buckley takes the helm at Cross Match

02 March 2011

Cross Match Technologies has named David Buckley as its new president and chief executive officer.

Most recently, Buckley was the CEO of Vectronix, a Safran Group company involved in optronics and advanced systems designed for the military and first responders. Under his guidance, the company grew from a small reseller of quality products to a full integrator of mission-critical solutions for the military. Formerly, Buckley was president and CEO of Modtech Holdings and he also held senior leadership positions at General Electric Company and Price Waterhouse.

"David Buckley has an exceptional background that will be invaluable as he leads our company through the dynamic changes in the biometrics arena and as we continue to grow our solutions business," says Don Nickelson, chairman of the Board at Cross Match.

Before joining the private sector, Buckley served as a Surface Warfare Officer in the US Navy, as both an engineering officer and a combat systems officer. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree from the US Naval Academy where he focused on optical physics, and a Masters in Business Administration from the Wharton School of Business where he studied operational management.
